

Decoloniality Dialogues Workshop Series

TEACHING & UNLEARNING Workshop

THURS, DEC 8TH, 2-4PM EST, VIA ZOOM

Decoloniality Dialogues (DD) Collective is an interdisciplinary and transnational group of educators, scholars, thinkers, and healers. For our first workshop of the series, we invite educators, caregivers, and practitioners to activate unlearning practices that disrupt ideas of teaching and learning, and place more focus on dynamic and disparate forms of engagement.

The central questions that this workshop will consider are: What possibilities of unlearning open up in teaching/learning environments when we collectively notice and disengage from colonial ways of knowing, being, and feeling in the colonial classroom? How can we support others to engage in unlearning and decolonial praxis?
